- To refuse any treatmeant, except as otherwise provided by law.
- To be given, upon request, full information and necessary counseling on the availability of known financial resources for his or her care.
- To know, upon requeat and in advance of treatment, whether the health care provider or health care facility accepts the Medicare assignment reat.
- To recevie, prior to treatment, a reasonable estimate of charges for medical care.
- To recevie a copy of a reasonably clear and understandable, itemized bill and upon request, to have the charges explained.
- To impartial access to medical treatment or accommadations, regardless of race, national orgin, religion, handicap, or source of payment.
- To treat for any emergency medical condition that will deteriorate from failure to provide treatment.
- To know if medical treatment is for purpose of experimental research and to give his his or her cosent or refusal to participate in such experimental research.
- To express grievances regarding any violation of hie or her rights, as stated in Florida law, through the grievance procedure of the health care provider or ealth care facility which served him or her and to the appropiate stste licensing agency.

A patient is responsible:

- For providing to the health care provider, to the best of his or her knowledge, accurate and complete information about present complaints, past illnesses, hositalizations, medications, and other matters retating to hie or her health.
- For reporting unexpected changes in his or her conditon to the health care provider.
- For reporting to the health care provider whether he or she comprehends a contemplated course of action and what is expected of him or her.
- For following the treatment plan recommended by the health care provider.
- For keeping appointments and when he or she is unable to do so for any reason for notifying the health care provider or health care facility.
- For his or her actions if he or she refuses treatment or does not follow the health care providers instructions.
- For assuring that the financial obligations of his or her health care are fulfilled as promptly as possible.
- For following healith caree facility rules and regulations affecting patient care and conduct.
